++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Turning more unsettled over the weekend.

This Evening and Tonight:
Rather cloudy in the west this evening and overnight with the chance of some rain or sleet arriving later. Dry elsewhere with clear spells. Cold with a frost, and winds strengthen, bringing a risk of coastal gales. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Saturday:
A cloudy day with outbreaks of rain and snow, heavy over Cornwall, moving eastwards across the region and easing through the day. Strong winds remain but turning less cold. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Outbreaks of heavy rain and strong winds on Sunday. Largely dry and brighter on Monday. Further wet weather on Tuesday. Milder but breezy throughout.
